Internship Opportunities for: Communications, Marketing, Public Relations, Journalism

Church of God Ministries offers internship opportunities to creative and motivated individuals seeking to gain practical experience in Public Relations, journalism, graphic design or marketing. Intern's contribution will directly enhance the communication and support activities vital to the ministries of the Church of God.

Students will work directly for the Director of Communication Services. Work schedule and number of hours are negotiable.

The proposed Tasks/Duties below can be tailored to meet the student's particular areas of interest:

- Assist in the development of communication campaigns for various functions, programs and ministry activities
- Assist in the development of marketing campaigns and associated products
- Social media engagement for marketing and/or message delivery
- Assist with webpage conceptualization and design
- Write news and feature articles for web, e-publications and traditional print products
- Write copy for marketing products (print, electronic and broadcast)
- Write scripts for video informational and marketing products
- Assist with events and programs

This is an unpaid internship opportunity. However, students may be eligible for participation in the INvision AU program, funded by a Lilly Endowment grant.
